Perfection in Automated UV Curing

The design of the Total-Cure automation allows for complete cure over three dimensional parts. With product and part in full motion through automation this unit insures a complete uniform cure without creating damaging heat build up at any stage of the process. (See Video) at www.spdiuv.com

The SPDI Fully Automated Curing Cabinet has multiple cycle modes to accommodate any configuration needed to cure your products quickly & safely and it is all done automatically.

The coolest UV curing cabinet available, as it utilizes a single high power lamp that can safely & easily cure all product surfaces. There is no waiting for the lamp to power-up between curing cycles, due to the fact that once the lamp is on the system remains in a ready stand-by condition.

Its rugged design and unique diversity allows for limitless product types and configurations. With selectable UV curing parameters on demand, this unit provides the cure for a variety of your finishing needs.

"I honestly cannot fathom doing my job without this curing unit. Prior to the SPDI automated unit we cured over 500 guitars with a handheld device, there is no way we'd go back. The labor savings alone are tremendous and as one of the guys who had to do the manual exposing I can wholeheartedly say the morale in the finishing department has gone through the roof."
